Healthy People 2010 and Healthy Vision 2010 Local, State, and National Programs for Improving Health

Healthy People 2010, the Nation's prevention agenda, identifies opportunities to improve the health of all Americans. Healthy People 2010 builds on initiatives pursued over the past two decades. For more information on Healthy People 2010, visit www.healthypeople.gov.

Healthy Vision 2010 represents the 10 vision objectives of Healthy People 2010. These objectives address visual impairment due to eye disease and refractive error, regular eye examinations for children and adults, vision screening for preschool children, injury prevention, and vision rehabilitation. Healthy Vision 2010 provides the opportunity for promoting healthy vision in neighborhoods and communities as well as through State and national programs. For more information on Healthy Vision 2010, visit www.healthyvision2010.org.

This booklet is from the National Eye Institute (NEI), the lead agency for Healthy Vision 2010. The NEI is part of the National Institutes of Health, an agency of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. NEI's research on eye diseases and disorders leads to sight-saving treatments and plays a key role in reducing visual impairment and blindness. For more information on NEI contact:
